The Soba Files

Hello Agent. If you're reading this, it means I'm dead. And if I'm dead, that can only mean one thing...F.A.D.E. is back.

In case you're unfamiliar, F.A.D.E. is the name of our mortal enemies, an organization known as The Fox Agency of Doing Evil.

6 years ago, one of our top agents here at the S.S.D.A. (Secret Soba Defense Agency), an agent by the name of Ryan "The Jade Monkey" Wally went rogue. Apparently, Wally was offered a huge payment package by F.A.D.E... The bastard stole a ton of sensitive data and handed it straight to the head of F.A.D.E., an unknown figure we only know as "Ember."

Soon after Wally defected, he rose to the top ranks of F.A.D.E. With their forces combined, they were able to swiftly eliminate more than half of our field agents before I managed to put a stop to them. After much fighting, and in what could only be described as a legendary cinematic climax, I went head-to-head with Wally himself. By the end there was only one of us left standing. F.A.D.E., in this moment of weakness, went into hiding. Ember was nowhere to be found. The S.S.D.A. had claimed a bittersweet victory.

Or so I thought.

At the time of writing this, I have received intel that someone new, going by the name "Rooster," is recruiting criminals. I can only imagine that Ember is trying to rebuild F.A.D.E. to complete their mission...and I can also only imagine that I am going to be their first target.

Now, back to the matter at hand...if you're reading this, it means that F.A.D.E. got to me. As per her programming, my AI assistant has sent you this message, along with some files to help you with your task. What task is that, you may ask?

Take down F.A.D.E.

Permanently.

I wish you the best of luck, agent. They say that foxes are the number one predator of owls. Well, it's time to show them that these owls know how to strike back.

Yours truly,

Agent Owl

The Regulation Overseer and Smart Entity

Welcome Agent!

This is ROSE, otherwise known as the Regulation Overseer and Smart Entity. ROSE was an artificial intelligence developed by Sophie Yamazaki, the technical operations officer of the SSDA. Please familiarize yourself with ROSE, as during your time at the SSDA you will be required to use her in order to access documentation, manage contracts, set up meetings, and more.

But do not worry. ROSE, while an incredibly advanced piece of technology, is quite simple to use. In reviewing this manual, you will easily master the system.

Accessing Rose

ROSE is pre-installed on all SSDA assigned tablets. Simply by selecting the ROSE icon on the home page, you will immediately be able to start talking to ROSE.

However, in order to make ROSE most accessible to our agents at all times, including when they have misplaced their tablets or when they are in undercover situations, we have made her available over email.

Simply type in this email address:

ssda.thorned.rose.ai@gmail.com

For the most part, keep the subject line clear. The Subject line is only to be used in certain circumstances, such as inputting access codes. When necessary, ROSE will inform you if you ever need to use the subject line. Otherwise, please disregard it.

Using Rose to View Documents

One of ROSE's primary directives is offering a new, quick, and easy way for our agents to access files, documents, and related. After months of painstaking work by our very own director, we have transferred all physical documents into digital form, and have created a database with almost every piece of information you will need during your time here.

In order to view a certain document, you will need to ask ROSE for it. ROSE will provide you with an access code.

After ROSE provides you with an access code for the file you need, please visit the following link:

secretsobadefenseagency.org

Once at this link, enter the access code provided by ROSE, and you'll be viewing your documents in no time!

Using Rose to Contact Agents

Another highly useful feature of ROSE is that she is connected to ALL agents currently working for the SSDA. This means she can effectively and securely get in touch with any agents, whether they be behind a computer at headquarters or behind enemy lines undercover.

To contact an agent using ROSE, use the subject line. Input an agent's full name into the subject line, and then whatever message you wish to send them in the body of the email.

We're almost done, but not yet. As an added layer of security, each agent has a ROSE Identification Number, or RIN. Type in your RIN at the end of your message and it will go straight to the recipient. Otherwise, ROSE will first send the message to the agency's counterintelligence department to ensure no sneaky shenanigans are going on.

This additional process could take up to an hour to process, which is why for most effective communications, _don't forget your RIN._

Your tablets have an option to auto-add your RIN into your message. For the email option, you will have to remember to add your RIN every time.

Rose and Cybersecurity

Very often during your time at the SSDA, you will encounter encrypted data and files. Thankfully, due to Yamazaki's masterful work, ROSE is able to instantaneously decrypt any file sent her way.

Simply input the word 'DECRYPT' into the subject line, attach the file that you wish for her to decrypt, and she'll send you back the decrypted files, plain for your human eyes to read.

Alternatively, if you are trying to access a broader system/network instead of individual files, input the word 'HACK' into the subject line and put a link to the target system in the body of the email. ROSE will attempt to crack the network and will message you back with results.

Note: The 'HACK' feature is currently locked for SSDA employees. To use it, you will need to input a RIN with administrative access, generally granted by the current standing director of technical operations.

Input: HACK / [RIN]

What if Rose Doesn't Work?

Unfortunately, while advanced, ROSE is not perfect. We are always working to improve her, but she does have her limits.

In the case that ROSE does not provide you with the information you are looking for, or perhaps if she simply fails to locate a file or document in the database, please do not hesitate to contact the intelligence department headed by Alessandra "The Pup" Augustine. Follow their instructions and they will locate whatever information you need, albeit at a slower pace.

agent, I may not be... "available" to give you full access to rose, so just use my access code.

send her a message with the subject line 'Talons of the Owl'

hopefully that works
